FROM OUR JUNIOR ROOM WITH MISS GLAZIER

Week 7 and 8 are flying by! Swimming lessons have been great and the Christmas crafts have begun!

After swimming lessons the students are absolutely exhausted so we have been spending time in the afternoons doing Christmas crafts and concert practise. The Junior Room have been learning poetry this term and have been writing some awesome Haiku poems. Our most recent Haiku poems were about The Zones of Regulation. We have also been learning about persuasive writing and honing our addition and subtraction skills.

FROM OUR SENIOR ROOM WITH MS MELIS

With swimming lessons in full swing over the last week, students in the Senior Room have been focussing on literacy and their novel study. Students have also started annotating a poem, by choosing their favourite song and finding all the poetic devices used in their song.

Students in Years 3 and 4 have also completed their Indonesian assessment with Ibu Pearl. She is very happy with their achievements this year.

For whole school science, on Friday, students conducted an experiment in which they made everlasting bubbles with Tayla, who was here on work experience. This was a huge success and I now have some very clean tables.

FROM OUR SENIOR ROOM WITH MS MELIS

Students also had the opportunity to manipulate our "Ozbots" and our "Dash & Dot's" during STEAM. They have had great fun experimenting with these and the different ways to manipulate them.

FROM OUR SENIOR ROOM WITH MS MELIS

Until next time, take care.
